Sweet to the ears of the hungry of-ficeseckers were the strains of "La Grande Duchesse," as rendered by the numerous music committee of the Gridiron Club. Set to the old score was the stirring tale, entitled "The Ax of Adlat" The skit opened with the entrance of a winsome lass. She was atroduced as "Miss Democracy," in earch of a quiet place to "tend to her knitting." She "thought the White House would afford me shelter; but weddings turn the place helter-skelter." Attended by a chorus of old friends and poor relations, she sings:
